Page 14, section 4.8.9 “Maturity and repayment”	The existing text is deleted, The following text is added: “For each individual bond, the final terms and conditions determine the opening date, the closing date and the final maturity date. For each individual bond, the final terms and conditions determine how the bonds are to be amortised. Amortisation takes place either according to a drawing made by BRFkredit whereupon the bonds are repaid to the holders at a pre-determined price at a repayment term for the bonds in question. In the drawing it is determined which shares of the issued bonds are to be repaid to the holders. The volume of the drawing is determined by the debtors, payment, adjusted for if any interest, interest rate spread, fees and similar, and redemptions, and for certain types of bonds also supplemented by the proceeds from sales of new bonds. Notice of the drawing shall be published immediately after the drawing has taken place, just as the notice shall inform holders that the result of the drawing may be obtained from BRFkredit. For each individual bond series, the final terms and conditions determine whether the bond series is callable, so that extraordinary drawings of bonds in the said bond series may take place in connection with the prepayment of loans. BRFkredit furthermore reserves the right to amortisation by annulment after repurchases in so far as that part of the amortisation of the bonds is concerned, which exceeds the ordinary amortisation calculated by BRFkredit. BRFkredit furthermore reserves the right to make an offer to the borrowers in a bond series that allows them to prepay their loans without at the same time arranging a drawing or annulment of bonds in a volume that corresponds to the bonds issued when the loan was taken out. For each individual bond series, the final terms and conditions may determine that the ordinary repayment of funded loans can take place as annuity loans or bullet loans (in which the borrower pays interest but no capital until maturity) upon the choice of the borrower. Otherwise amortisation shall take place through full repayment on the final date of maturity. Some individual bond series is amortised by drawing at par by BRFkredit’s decision, , which will be determined in the final terms and conditions.”
